

EARN YOUR CERTIFICATE IN COMMUNITY-BASED ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING

Our Environment is Integral to our Community and the Legacy we leave behind.

Earn the qualifications and credentials you need to begin your career in the Environmental sciences, with theory and practical training using Indigenous Science and Knowledge with Western Science. Upon completion of this 10-month program, graduates may find employment with Indigenous-owned and operated environmental companies, environmental consultants, industry employers, or become an environmental entrepreneur, or further their education in the environmental sector.
